REPORT #2 TO THE FETZER FOUNDATION

Prepared by Joseph R. Jochmans

PENDULUM AND DOWSING READINGS -- RECOMMENDATIONS AND OBSERVATIONS

After having considered other sites around Kalamazoo as possible locations of the future World Center for the Fetzer Foundation, both dowsing and pendulum readings indicate that the 590 site, across from the Fetzer radio/TV station is still by far the best, energy-wise and otherwise. Two very important guiding principles here will be: 1) The Kalamazoo Center must devote itself exclusively to gathering research information, communicating and forming a research network, and funding research, but doing no clinical application work whatsoever. This must be done elsewhere, out of the country, preferably in the Bahamas. 2) The Center must become as self-sufficient as possible in all its aspects -- communications, energy needs, etc.

On April 16, 1984, stones from Saqqara and Giza in Egypt were placed at specific energy line crossing point on the 590 property, helping to raise the overall energy levels and create new energy vortices. The next steps will be: 1) My acquisition in Arkansas of 13 quartz crystals which will be placed in specific locations along the property energy lines, especially at the exits and entrances of the lines upon the property. The target for this to be done is in May. 2) There needs to begin a real effort to clean up the property of existing garbage, especially the huge dumped piles of concrete blocks, etc. in the middle, which weighs upon the overall spirit and energy of the place like a great cancer sore. Some way must also be found to protect the property from future dumping, possibly by a fence around the property. Also recommended for the near future, when possible, would be to acquire and purchase the AAA facilities at the southern end of the property, so that the whole property would be complete.

Tarot readings for each of the three major sites on the 590 property were as follows: 1) Spiritual Center = High Priestess card. This is Isis, the Universal Mother, with attributes of secret wisdom to be revealed, finding balance, building, the first fruits of fertility, emotions under control, birth of the Sun or God consciousness, the beginnings of Initiation. 2) Educational/Conference Center = Lovers card. These attributes include angelic being overshadowing all, left/right brain balance, Tree of Life and the Tree of Immortality (both for healing), universal service, logic guided by intuition which in turn is guided by the spirit. 3) Administration Building = Temperance card. This is another angelic being, with the fire of the heart and gold in the Third Eye, mixing the waters of inner alchemy, new growth, spring, covering land and sea, beginning of the path toward Enlightenment.

Preliminary dowsing of the Clovelly property across from the Fetzer home indicates that this would be an ideal place for a secluded retreat area for the foundation. The Fetzer home would eventually become a guest house, while on the Clovelly property, small cottages or cabins could be built, with a small meditation chapel on the energy line crossing point on the southern side of the property. These cabins would provide secluded space for visiting researchers to be alone, to think, and to contemplate upon their work, while providing nearby access to the Foundation Center facilities. Needed next will be to legally re-zone the property for this, and also begin staking out through map and field dowsing the location for the cabins and chapel. Two energy lines run through the property on the northern and southern boundaries of the property with indications of a third energy line to enter southwest to northeast in the near future.

In investigating alternate sites for the Kalamazoo Center, two were found to be most promising, and one of these will serve a very specific, but not as yet clearly defined purpose in the foundation's future. The second choice, the Leithauser property, located on the corner of D Street and Route 131, has a high concentration of energy patterns. Unfortunately, it is situated not far from the Kalamazoo Speedway, which presents a real problem of noise pollution. The first choice, the Ray Anderson estate, located in Oshtemo, near KL Avenue and Fourth Street intersection, is a beautiful property, highly energized, including shoreline on Dustin Lake. Dowsing readings show that there are potentially healing energy properties to this land, and pendulum readings indicate all 56 acres should be acquired by the foundation as soon as possible. It may be utilized as a retreat area to begin with, but only after the Center will be functioning at the 590 property will we learn something that will make the Dustin Lake property very valuable for foundation purposes. Again, this is something that cannot be clearly defined at this time, until we are ready to receive the right information, but it is important nonetheless, and acquisition of the land now is vital. Addendum: A more recent reading suggests that after the next shift in global energy patterns, the Dustin Lake property will become the site of a minor node point with several energy lines crossing here, an energy balance point for this entire region -- a very powerful energy potential to work with.

Once more, the pendulum readings are adamant about the Research Clinic Center being located in the Bahamas, with specific focus on the Bimini Islands, or possibly the purchase of an entire island within the Bahaman group. Once I acquire maps from the foundation, and pursue others, I will do a preliminary map dowsing. I also plan to do a special report for the foundation on the Cayce readings regarding Bimini as an Atlantian and future healing site. Once a location has been chosen, the next step will be to make contact with the Bahaman government officials as to acquiring the land, etc.

The major emphasis for the foundation at this time, should be to begin establishing a research communications network, which includes the following:

1. A bi-monthly or quarterly journal or magazine, professionally edited and published, which can act as an open forum for research ideas and exchange. This necessitates finding a good editor, magazine lay-out personnel, printers, etc.
2. Using the Fetzer Hall facilities for the foundation sponsorship of conferences, seminars, and workshops on specific topics, in order to attract researchers, and initiate inter-communications among them.
3. Greatly expand the present foundation library by acquiring new and old books, and as many publications by various groups as possible, dealing with all aspects of healing. These materials then need to be organized, and catalogued and made available for visiting researchers, and/or organized into a special lending library facility.
4. Information acquired through research work and conferences and the journal and the library materials, should all begin to be computer processed and cross-referenced. This will necessitate the acquisition of or access to a computer system, plus computer programmers.
5. The foundation should look toward increasing its publication and/or sponsorship of getting research books printed, developing its own book printing and bindery facilities.
6. Expand the present foundation efforts for finding and funding research individuals and groups. I am in the process now of making discreet inquiries and putting together a listing to be submitted for funding consideration, which should be ready by June.
